News You Can Use

This month starts the holiday season in our culture, and while we don't celebrate holidays at SSFAA, in November we are celebrating becoming a team. We are becoming a classroom community, so now we can move into studying "school" topics.

First we're learning about color, the names of common hues -especially primary colors- and how they mix to make new ones including tints and shades. By the end of the month, you should be able to ask your child the meaning of the words in bold type, so keep this newsletter on the fridge until next month!

Also be sure to pay attention to our calendar and important dates for November. There are a number of days off and other special events. First, because preschoolers do not receive an actual grade report until January, on Report Card Pickup day in Room 111 we do a walkthrough of our school year. Families can come in -with or without the student- to set learning goals for their kids.

Last, cold weather is headed our way! We will still try to go outside whenever it's not too frosty, so please remember the warm coats and hats! Also, if you have never provided extra shoes, now is the time. We are not sure how often our floors will be cleaned, so we try to keep them clean ourselves. To do this, it's best for us to change footwear on days when we will track in with wet boots or shoes.

As always, feel free to contact us with any questions at the number below or via email at hmduncan@cps.edu. Don't forget to check our website, Facebook page and Facebook group regularly and follow @authenticpreschool on Twitter for links to pictures and stories about Room 111!
